

Technical Paper Writing

Description

A technical paper is not an English paper. It is also not a science lab report. The layout of a formal technical paper typically consists of the following key elements: Abstract, Introduction, Work Done, Results & Discussion, Conclusion, and References. Writing an effective paper is time consuming, but is worth the effort when it is finally published and others can read and reference your work in their own research.

Who this workshop is for:

- Anyone that want to learn writing of technical paper

What you'll learn

- Increase skills in communication
- Skills of writing instructions and inferring data from graphs and charts.
- Develop or improve reading skills.
- Flyer paper

Basic Outline of the Workshop

An Introduction to Technical Paper Writing

1. Basic technical paper structure
2. Report formatting in word document
3. Discussing standard IEEE format
4. Introduction to flyer paper